Safeguarding Adults Policy

Introduction

The safety and welfare of our patients is of the utmost importance. Because of the day-to-day contact with adults our team has, all those who work at Easingwold Osteopaths are well placed to provide a safe environment for the adults in our care whilst also remaining vigilant for the outward signs of abuse. All practitioners and support staff working in the practice contribute to providing a safe environment (physical and emotional) to protect vulnerable adults from harm and abuse, being aware that any adult may be at risk of harm or abuse.

Easingwold Osteopaths is committed to Safeguarding Adults in line with national legislation and relevant national and local guidelines.

Easingwold Osteopaths will fulfil our duty to safeguard and protect the welfare of our patients by identifying any adult with welfare concerns and taking action to address them in partnership with families and other agencies where appropriate.

We are committed to creating a culture of zero-tolerance of harm to adults which necessitates: the recognition of adults who may be at risk and the circumstances which may increase risk; knowing how adult abuse, exploitation or neglect manifests itself; and being willing to report safeguarding concerns.

Easingwold Osteopaths is committed to best safeguarding practice and to uphold the rights of all adults to live a life free from harm from abuse, exploitation, and neglect.

Policy Statement

Easingwold Osteopaths believes everyone has the right to live free from abuse or neglect regardless of age, ability or disability, sex, race, religion, ethnic origin, sexual orientation, marital or gender status.

Easingwold Osteopaths acknowledges that safeguarding is everybody's responsibility and is committed to prevent abuse and neglect through safeguarding the welfare of all adults involved.

Easingwold Osteopaths recognises that health, well-being, ability, disability and need for care and support can affect a person's resilience. We recognise that some people experience barriers, for example, to communication in raising concerns or seeking help. We recognise that these factors can vary at different points in people's lives.

Easingwold Osteopaths recognises that there is a legal framework within which to work to safeguard adults who have needs for care and support and for protecting those who are unable to take action to protect themselves and will act in accordance with the relevant safeguarding adult legislation and with local statutory safeguarding procedures.

Actions taken by Easingwold Osteopaths will be consistent with the principles of adult safeguarding ensuring that any action taken is prompt, proportionate and that it includes and respects the voice of the adult concerned.
